FIND YOUR PARK

Moccasin Bend is a unit of the National Park Service

Moccasin Bend preserves and interprets nationally significant resources associated with the Civil War Campaign for Chattanooga and 12,000 years of American Indian presence on Moccasin Bend including the Trail of Tears routes. With miles of trails, this national park also provides opportunities for residents to experience the physical and mental health benefits of enjoying scenic views and natural beauty.

As this concept shows, a connection is feasible since an existing road network is in place north of the railroad; however, there are physical barriers such as fencing, rail crossings and loading areas that must be considered in any future enhancement efforts. Connecting North Shore neighborhoods (Hill City, Stringer's Ridge and North Chattanooga) with a more direct route from Cherokee Blvd. to Manufacturer's Rd is needed.

CONNECTIONS

COMMUNITY

A north-south connection from Cherokee Blvd to the Riverwalk alleviates traffic congestion and increases accessibility to commercial areas and park spaces. The connection may feature a path, sidewalk or multi-use street.

Moccasin Bend embodies the incredible natural beauty of our landscape; a revived downtown; respect for the environment, history, and culture; and access to outdoor education and recreation for all including families and urban youth. Connecting community is the key focus of the North Shore Public Spaces and the 2012 Gateway Plan.
